Purpose

The Maryland Youth Advisory Council (MYAC) was established through the State legislature in order to ensure that Maryland youth are given the opportunity to provide feedback and recommendations regarding public policies and programs that affect their future and to take a leadership role in creating meaningful change. MYAC members are appointed by the Governor, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Delegates, the Maryland Association of Student Councils, University System of Maryland Student Council, and the Maryland Higher Education Commission Student Advisory Council. All youth members must be 14-22 years of age, serve a one year term (September 1 - August 30), and cannot serve more than two consecutive terms.

As outlined in the parent bill, MYAC:

- Holds at least four meetings a year;
- Holds at least one public meeting on issues of importance to youth;
- Recommends one legislative proposal;
- Provides testimony before legislative bodies on youth issues;
- Conducts a public awareness campaign to raise awareness about the Council among Maryland youth; and
- Provides an annual report to the Governor and the General Assembly.

While MYAC did not propose a specific legislative policy change to the General Assembly this year, the Council submitted written testimony on several bills that were introduced during the legislative session and developed a legislative platform including topics that the Council believed to be important.

Application Process and Outreach

2014-2015 Term

For the 2014-2015 term, the Council revised the application (Appendix I) for the Maryland Youth Advisory Council, which was available online on the Governor’s Office for Children (GOC) website beginning April 1, 2014 to July 1, 2014. The Council expanded application outreach presented to numerous organizations to increase awareness of the Council and encourage a more diverse pool of applicants. Christina Drushel Williams and Michael Hawkins presented at the following meetings:

- Local Management Board Meeting – March 4, 2014
- Student Advisory Council to the Maryland Higher Education Commission – March 8, 2014
- University System of Maryland Student Council – March 9, 2014
- Department of Human Resources Quarterly Providers Meeting – April 10 and 17, 2014
- Department of Human Resources State Youth Advisory Board Meeting – April 16, 2014
- Maryland Association of Student Council Executive Board Meeting – May 13, 2014

GOC received 70 applications from 18 counties and 56 schools. The 2014 – 2015 Council will be composed of 52 members (three MHEC appointment slots remained vacant) representing 16 counties and 36 schools; of the 52 members, 9 are returning second-year members, and 43 are first-year members.

2015-2016 Term

For the 2015-2016 term, the Council received 198 applications from 20 counties, representing 108 high schools, colleges, and universities. The majority of applicants were from Montgomery and Prince George’s Counties, female, and African American.
The 2015-2016 Council will be composed of 37 members, representing 16 counties and 13 high schools, colleges, and universities. At the submission of this report, the Governor’s first-year appointments are pending and the Maryland Higher Education Commission Student Advisory Council appointments remain unfilled and will be appointed in September. Of the 55 members, 19 are returning second-year members and 36 will be first-year members.

(See Appendix II for 2015-2016 Application Flyer)

Council Meetings

The statute that establishes MYAC requires the Council to meet at least four times each year and each meeting must be open to the public. The Council hosted five meetings and a Public Forum. The meetings were held on Saturday afternoons at various Baltimore County library locations and Towson University. These locations were selected because of their accessibility to the council and members of the public. All meeting dates, times, and locations were available on GOC’s website and meeting materials were also posted on the website before and after meetings.

Meeting #1: Saturday, September 6, 2014 (1 p.m. – 4 p.m.), Arbutus Library, 855 Sulphur Spring Road, Arbutus, MD 21227

During the first meeting, the Council reviewed its roles and responsibilities, discussed past Council’s legislative priorities, and voted on leadership positions. Richard Harris from Department of Legislative Services talked to MYAC about how the Maryland General Assembly works. The Council also elected its officers, Co-Chair, Vice Chair, and Secretary, and its Executive Board. After which, it formed the Legislative Committee and the Public Awareness Committee. The council members were asked to think about a focus for the year that will drive the Council’s legislative actions.
Meeting #2: Saturday, October 25, 2014 (1 p.m. – 4 p.m.), White Marsh Library, 8133 Sandpiper Cir, Baltimore, MD 21236

During the second meeting, Youth as Resources trained the Council on the goals and facilitation of community conversations. The Council then planned for community conversations around Maryland. The Council proceeded by revising its bylaws. Within the bylaws, sections were changed to articles and subsections were changed to sections, many grammar/parallel structure edits were made, and roles were added to Co-Chair position from Secretary position. Council members were asked to plan community conversations throughout their counties.

Meeting #3: Saturday, December 13, 2014 (11 a.m. – 2 p.m.), Towson University, West Village Commons, Ballroom A, 8000 York Road, Towson, MD 21252

In the third meeting, Christine Johnson from the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene asked the Council members what their health needs were and how they went about addressing them. They provided members with answers and resources regarding youth health. How they handled their health needs. Then, the Council had its legislative priorities discussion. Some issues included keeping college tuition affordable, ban the box initiative, concussion testing, intern protection, and police training. Finally, the Council members were asked to look out for bills that relate to youth and the legislative priorities discussed at this meeting.

Meeting #4: Sunday, February 8, 2015 (1 p.m. – 5 p.m.), Towson University, Minnegan Room, Johnny Unitas Stadium, Towson, MD 21204

The fourth meeting was focused on the MYAC platform and current Maryland legislation. Within the MYAC platform, the planks Youth Leadership, Education, Health and Social Issues, Youth Safety, Student Discipline, Environmental Issues, and Youth Employment were changed to either reflect MYAC’s current position on certain issues or clarify what was already written. Then the Council proceeded to discuss relevant bills before the Maryland legislature. House Bill 28, which states that there should be one school resource officer at each secondary school, enticed a long discussion from the Council. Last year, when a similar bill was proposed, the Council decided to not support it. This debate concluded with the following statement: “The utilization of school resource officers” would remain in the MYAC platform, but only with added provision of “when deemed necessary and appropriate by the school”. However, the Council decided not to take any action on the bill itself. The Council had questioned the purpose and effectiveness of Senate Bill 310, which implements a bilingual seal on high school diploma. The Council supported House Bill 86, which would increase the voting rights for the Montgomery County Student Member of the Board of Education (SMOB). The Council also supported Senate Bill 183, or the Geographic Cost of Education Index, for which it decided to send a letter of support. Then the Council decided on the audience and purpose for the public forum.

Meeting #5: Saturday, March 21, 2015 (1 p.m. – 4 p.m.), Towson University, West Village Commons, Room 305, 8000 York Road, Towson, MD 21252

The fifth meeting consisted, primarily, of a legislative update and public forum planning. First the December 13, 2014 and the February 08, 2015 meeting minutes were approved. Matt Saxton and Alison Smith, Legislative Co-Chairs, gave a legislative update on the bills that interested MYAC. House Bill 86, which gave full voting rights for the Montgomery County SMOB, passed in the House. Senate Bill 183/House Bill 215 (Geographic Cost of Education), House Bill 28 (Primary and Secondary Education – School Resource Officers), and House Bill 57 (University System of Maryland – Pay It Forward Pilot Program and Tuition Freeze) had unfavorable outlooks. Following the legislative update, members from the different counties within Maryland gave updates on the political and social atmosphere of their regions. Issues regarding English Language Learner students, budget cuts, and SMOB voting rights were discussed. Then, the Council revised the MYAC application with minor adjustments. Afterwards the Council planned its annual public forum. It was decided that the focus will be to inform youth of ways in which youth can lobby, advise MYAC, and create networking opportunities for youth leaders. This was the last official meeting of the MYAC for the 2014-2015 school year.

(See Appendix III for meeting minutes)

Bylaws Revision

On October 25, 2014 the Council reviewed, proposed revisions, and approved changes to the bylaws to reflect current practices regarding the application process and officer duties.

(See Appendix IV for revised bylaws)

Legislative Priority Selection Process

The Maryland Youth Advisory Council (MYAC) has long been actively engaged in promoting the betterment and advancement of policy initiatives that progress the lives, education, and communities of Maryland’s youth population. The 2014-2015 membership thoroughly discussed the needs of Maryland youth in order to select a legislative priority for the year. Following deliberation, the Council elected to make the year’s priority the “health and well-being of the youth of the State of Maryland.” MYAC took a stand during its 2014-2015 term year to advocate for the passage and signage of any actions or bills that promoted a healthier lifestyle, both physically and mentally, of our youth, as well as the affordability and accessibility of a high quality education on all levels. MYAC partnered with other statewide student leaders and advocates, particularly around issues facing our constituency in higher education institutions. Through the work of the MYAC, and its partners, a mandate of full funding for the Geographical Cost of Education Index, stronger employment protections for unpaid interns, and many more of our legislative platform initiatives were successful. The Legislative Committee coordinated an effort to present the important of uniform concussion testing methods for high school athletes in Maryland. Outside of our legislative priority, the MYAC Legislative Committee authored a formal written resolution in support of House Bill 86, which would give a full vote to the Student Member of the Montgomery County Board of Education.

In an effort to codify the views of the Council and Maryland youth, the MYAC Legislative Committee spearheaded the development of a MYAC Legislative Platform during the 2014-2015 term. The platform was initially proposed by the Legislative Committee Co-Chairs to MYAC leadership in December. During the drafting of the document, significant research was conducted into the views, current legislative actions, and similar documents of other Maryland youth advocacy organizations as well as the past work of the Council. The draft was completed and submitted to MYAC leadership in January. MYAC leadership and the Legislative Co-Chairs discussed the proposed document at length to refine it in preparation for presentation to the Council. After revisions were made, a proposed platform was brought before the Assembly in February. The document was read in full to the Council, questions were taken, amendments proposed, and thorough discussion held. Following full review of the document the Council voted unanimously to adopt the document. In total the platform spans 7 broad subjects: Youth Representation, Youth Leadership, Education, Health and Social Issues, Youth Safety and Student Discipline, Environmental Issues, and Youth Employment. Contained within the platform are over 70 planks indicating either an area of support or opposition in relation to the 7 subjects.

The goal of the platform is multifaceted. Firstly, the platform will allow the Council to share our views and recommendations for Maryland through a central, easy to follow document. Secondly, the adoption of a platform will enable MYAC to advocate more broadly for youth and individual council members will be empowered by this document as youth advocates. Finally, this document serves as a testament to the abilities of youth to be informed on a wide array of subject matters enough so to make specific, action-oriented comments and recommendations.

The Maryland Youth Advisory Council Legislative Platform will serve both the Council and our peers across the State well. The platform will promote informed advocacy, future Council discussions, and ultimately a better defined and organized Council. As a living document, the platform is sure to evolve with the needs of youth and continue to influence change for years to come.

(See Appendix V for Legislative Platform)

2015 Public Forum

Each year, the Council conducts a public forum in which Council members, panel speakers, and guests are encouraged to discuss a current issue important to Maryland youth. During the 2014-15 year, the Council focused on topics of Advocacy, Activism, and Education. The 2015 Public Forum was held on Saturday, April 25, 2015 at the Anne Arundel Community College – Arnold Campus.

Opening remarks were given by the Council co-chair Christina Drushel-Williams, followed by a brief speech from the Vice Chair, Kennard Wallace.

Workshop I

The first workshop was led by Christina Drushel Williams and consisted of Advocacy, Activism, and Education. The workshop focused on ways to advocate, engage in activism, and educate people on the importance of an issue. The workshop separated the Council members and Forum guests into groups of five. The workshop began with a chart that asked the participants to brainstorm ways a person would be able to advocate for a problem/issue, act on the problem/issue, and educate other citizens about why the problems/issue needs to be solved.

This workshop also allowed the Council members and the guests to discuss why these attributes were needed in order to productively promote change. Each group presented their brainstormed ideas.
afterwards, which led into a larger group discussion about advocacy, activism, and education towards the change of policy and legislation that currently govern the youth.

Workshop II

After the first workshop, each group then engaged in a roundtable discussion. The attendees wrote down several adjectives that described themselves and their strengths and then briefly explained why they chose those words. After the explanations, each group deliberated why the words used were important in leveraging relationships with peers and co-workers when attending school, academic events, and advocating for legislation. As each and every person is part of multiple networks, whether social or professional, the means through which people could use their strengths to promote change within their communities were discussed.

Public Forum Review

At the end of the Public Forum, attendees were given an evaluation form to fill out concerning the various sections of the Forum and their perceived efficacy. The form consisted of two sections, one with numeric assessments, and the other with short-answer questions. 38 evaluation forms were received, and the following statistics were calculated:

- Usefulness of the Public Forum (out of 5): 4.08
- Percent of expectations met (out of 100): 81.58
- Overall satisfaction with the Forum (out of 5): 4.20
- Overall satisfaction with Workshop 1 (out of 5): 4.08
- Overall satisfaction with Workshop 2 (out of 5): 4.29

(See Appendix VI for Public Forum Materials)

Improvements for 2015-16 Council Year

Location

Members felt that this year’s Towson University location was more appealing and accessible than those of previous years. We recommend continued use of this location.

Large unspecialized committees had difficulty meeting and accomplishing tasks

This year, for the first time, the Council deviated from its two established committees, Legislative and Public Relations, creating several other, smaller committees to focus on other tasks. Council members generally reacted favorably to this change but believed it could be better-implemented and that more committees should be established. Council members also felt that committees had little time to work during Council meetings.
Suggestion:
- At the beginning of the Council year, work with members to create committees focusing on each area the Council is involved in. Make sure that each member is assigned to a specific committee and that heads of committees communicate with each other and with their staff. Assign each committee specific tasks. To ensure that committees have time to work, set aside additional time at every Council meeting.

Lack of tangible tasks and deadlines

Members often wished to contribute further but did not feel that they knew what needed to be done. Tasks went uncompleted because no specific member had been assigned them and each member assumed someone else was working on it. Committee heads shouldered a disproportionate share of the work.

Suggestion:
- Before the end of each meeting, ensure that concrete, tangible tasks have been assigned to committees and individuals. Do not assume that this will be done over email or through other communication technology after the meeting. Give each task a deadline and keep a master list of tasks to facilitate checking in with members on task status.

Revisions of committee materials took up a disproportionate share of meeting time

The Committee revised several documents during meetings this year, including the MYAC By-Laws and the newly created MYAC Platform. Members often found themselves bogged down in debates over small issues of grammar, syntax, or wording which took a great deal of committee time to resolve.

Suggestion:
- Accomplish such revisions outside meeting times by using online group-editing technology, such as Google Docs.

Improvements for 2016 Public Forum

Attendance

The public forum was held on Saturday, April 25, 2015, at Anne Arundel Community College – Arnold Campus. While more members of the public attended than ever before, MYAC would like to continue to increase attendance from people outside of the Council by better promoting the forum.

Suggestions:
- Social Media Use: The Council should continue to create a Facebook event for the forum and to utilize the Council page and members’ pages to disseminate information about the event. The Council should also:
• Print advertisements/flyers: MYAC members should use more flyers to promote the event. Members can post flyers at local high schools and colleges to encourage students to attend the event.
• Concrete tasks: In accordance with the second recommended improvement for the general Council year, committee heads and Council leaders should establish and assign goals and actions to each member. For example, members could be asked to invite a certain number of people, distribute a certain number of flyers, or post advertisements on certain social networks.

Outside Speakers

Members felt that the workshops were informative and engaging and appreciated opportunities for MYAC members and other attendees to interact and discuss the forum topic. However, members felt that having one or more outside speakers could have provided new perspectives and perhaps served as a draw for the general public.

Suggestion:
• Contact multiple speakers earlier. Speakers are generally busy people who require more than a few weeks’ notice. Also contacting and engaging multiple speakers provides a cushion in case of cancellation. One outside speaker had planned to give a brief address at this year’s forum, but was unable to attend due to illness.

Community Conversations Training

1. Youth as Resources: Baltimore’s youth led non-profit grant making organization. They give grants that range from $500 to $3500 to youth that would like to improve their communities. These projects must be completely facilitated by youth.

2. Overview of Community Conversations
   - Our Thoughts:
     - Representation from all groups of the community
     - Every person from each home comes to the meeting
     - An opportunity for people from within a specific community to express their ideas on a specific topic so that the people in that community can collaborate on an action plan
     - Young people can be in their own community
   - Actual: A community conversation is a facilitated, guided discussion aimed to engage the community in identifying the most pressing problems and identifying actions to address this problem

3. Goals of community conversations
   - Our Thoughts:
     - Find out the problems that might have been overlooked and then to figure what the possible solutions are
     - To think about how to address the issues
     - If it is structured around a certain issue that involves two groups, community conversations can be used to facilitate mediation
Actual: The goal of a community conversation is to group ideas together to come up actions to address the problems.

4. Facilitation
   - Our Thoughts:
     - Modeling and organizing thoughts.
     - Keeping the conversations going.
   - Actual: Facilitation serves the needs of any group who are meeting with a common purpose, whether it be making a decision, solving a problem, or simply exchanging ideas and information. It does not lead the group, nor does it try to distract or entertain.

5. Facilitator: Someone who helps a group of people understand their common objectives and assists them to plan to achieve them without taking a particular position in the discussion.

6. Facilitation Tips and Tricks:
   - Introduce what you are going to cover: helps people understand what is in store
   - Use visuals: some people are visual learners
   - Maintain neutrality: be unbiased, don’t encourage frivolity
   - Be a spontaneous thinker when necessary: often times, things go wrong, so be ready to correct the situation
   - Smile: helps create a positive environment
   - Use eye contact: helps gauge interest and engages audience
   - Speak slowly and confidently: clarifies the content
   - Keep it short and simple: creates most efficient facilitation
   - Corny is cute: it’s a good memory trick
   - Involve your audience: “draw them out” by asking questions and “check in” before you move on, helps gauge understanding

7. Outline of a Community Conversations
   - Assets: What do you like about your neighborhood, what are some of the goods things?
   - Problems: What do you think are some problems in your neighborhood, community, school and/or Baltimore?
   - Causes: What causes those problems? Why are things that way? Why it is so? In other words, if violence is a problem, why are people violent? Keep asking why?
   - Solutions: What are some ideas you have to address some of those causes? What can we do together to address some of these causes?
     - What demands can we make? Who has the power to meet those demands? These are your targets.
     - Who else cares about this? What do we want to ask them to do? These are your allies.
   - Developing a Plan: What actions do we want to take? What can we do to influence those with the power to meet our demands? What do we want to first, next, etc.? Who is going to do it, by when? What do we need to get it done? What do we already have? This will help you develop a budget.
Questions:
- How general or specific do the conversations get?
  - It is really up to the group.
- Are the asset walks necessary?
  - No, the assets/problems walks aren’t necessary.
- What are some barriers you have encountered and how have you dealt with them?
  - Some people don’t think they have power to enact change, so you have to explain to them that they have power in numbers.
- What do you do if one or two people are dominating the conversation?
  - Under participators:
    - Round robins
    - Small groups
    - Pre-set a role, forewarning
    - Ask for feedback without putting anyone on the spot
    - Use phrases like: tell me more
    - Ask everyone to write down their thoughts
    - Introverts take seven seconds longer to respond, live with silence
    - Don’t ask yes or no questions
  - Over participators:
    - Round robins
    - Everyone gets first before seconds
    - Scribe or some other non-verbal role
    - Diplomacy – let’s hear from those who have not spoken
    - Time keeping
    - Pass throw an object/group picks the next one to talk
- What do you do if the group consensus doesn’t match your perspective?
  - Deal with it. It is the group’s prerogative to decide what they want done.
- What if the solutions aren’t realistic?
  - Tell them it’s not realistic and lead them in a new direction
- How young are kids you work with?
  - They are around seven.

Community Conversation Planning
- How do we find locations to hold conversations?
  - Christina can help find space.
  - Zachary McGee, President of University System of Maryland Student Council can also help locate space.

Minutes:

Focus Group:
Christine Johnson, Department of Health and Mental Hygiene

DHMH requested an invitation to join MYAC at their meeting to conduct a focus group on health issues facing youth and adolescents. Topics included physical health, mental health, safety, school and community climate, and relationships.

Feedback was provided anonymously. Below is a brief representation of part of the conversation:

1. Who makes your doctors’ appointments?
   Our Thoughts:
   - Parents – sometimes they will teach their kids to learn how to make appointments, sometimes they don’t.

2. Is it uncomfortable for you to make an appointment?
   Our Thoughts:
• There isn’t enough time to make appointments.
• Questions about insurance are uncomfortable.

3. If you had an issue, who would you call?
   Our Thoughts:
   • Some teens have no idea where to start.

4. What do you and your peers consider a healthy relationship?
   Our Thoughts:
   • It may not be too healthy to make goals and talk about the future at a young age because there is so much that can change.
   • Some teens have unreal expectations.
   • There are so many different types of relationships, so there is confusion about what’s appropriate for the relationship and what’s not.

5. Where do young people learn about healthy/unhealthy relationships?
   Our Thoughts:
   • Parents.
   • Through their peers: trial and error.
   • Not talked about enough.
   • People of faith.

  - They sometimes act as community liaisons.
  - They can be very effective in certain schools with increased violence.

- Concerns:
  - Bill in Legislature says “retired officers”.
  - Effectiveness is questionable in certain cases.
  - Guns in schools were opposed by members.
  - Apathetic officers create more tension within schools.

- Conclusion: “The utilization of school resource officers” would remain in the Platform, but only with added provision of “when deemed necessary and appropriate by the school”. This decision was made by 25-5 vote (support-oppose).
